

Step 6

The final step is to integrate your existing e-mail account(s) or choose to have an e-mail address created for you to use:

- a Create up to 10 personal email accounts
- b Set up a dedicated BlackBerry account

That's it!

You are now able to begin sending and receiving emails, hold the escape button to exit this screen.

Need Help?

Visit www.o2.ie/blackberry for more information or dial 1740 from your O₂ mobile for Technical Support.

O₂ mobile calls cost 19c per call (inc VAT). From a landline, callsave 1850 60 1740. Standard operator rates apply.

Our customer support team is available 7 days a week, between 8am and 10pm. For further support guides and FAQs, log on to www.o2.ie/blackberry.

BlackBerry®

Getting started guide

Setting up the e-mail service on your BlackBerry device

Remember to have handy...

- Your existing e-mail address
(e.g. username@hotmail.com)
- Your Password
(password you use to log-in to your e-mail account)

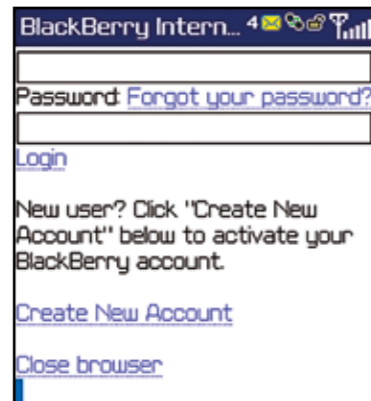

Note
Some accounts may require a premium service to receive e-mail on a BlackBerry device. Please check with the e-mail provider whether you are able to pick up your e-mail using another e-mail client such as MS Outlook, Lotus Notes or BlackBerry.

Step 1
Switch on your BlackBerry device and connect to the O₂ network by selecting the "Turn Wireless on" icon/option.

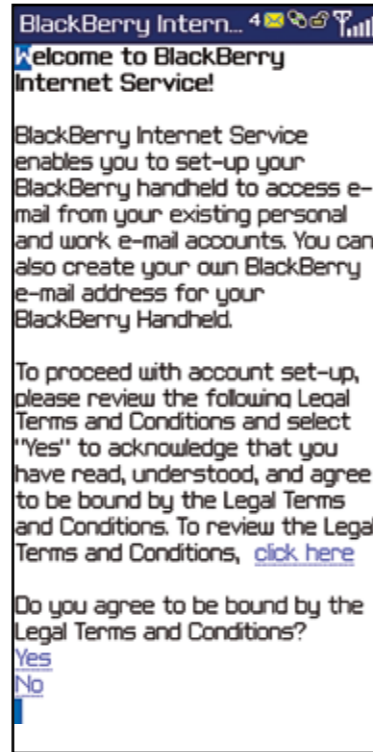

Note
When pressing the power button, ensure that the device eventually displays upper case GPRS or EDGE in the top right hand of the screen. If your device does not display upper case GPRS or EDGE, please contact our Customer Care on 1909.

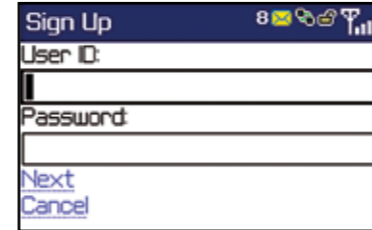

Step 2
Select the "e-mail setup" icon/option or select the Internet browser and go to www.o2mail.ie Then select the "create new account" link.

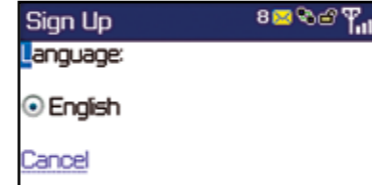

Step 3
Read and agree to Terms and Conditions.

Step 4
Enter your desired BlackBerry service login information and select "Next".

Step 5
Select the language you wish to use with your account.

Step 6 overleaf →

www.o2.ie/blackberry

O₂ Customer Care
McLoughlin Road
National Technology Park
Limerick
Ireland